

ONE PARTNER, INFINITE SOLUTIONS

FINE ART

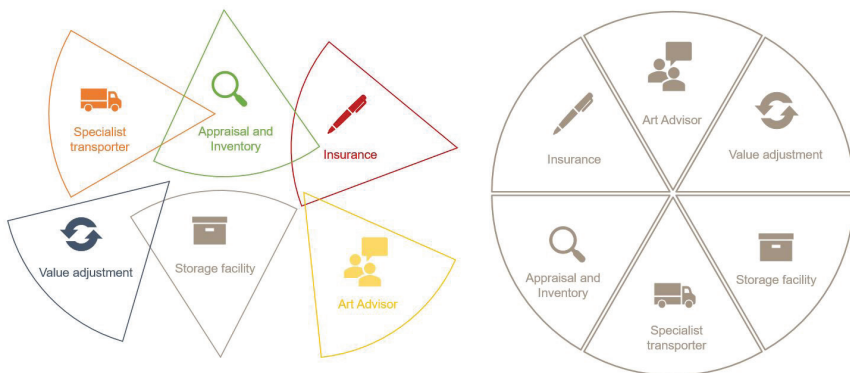

PSPI's Fine Art Department classifies your precious and collectible possessions, all objects of value, such as paintings, precious stones, jewellery and diverse art collections, as "fine art". While this may seem like a wide-ranging classification, it's understandable that protecting each of these valuable items is absolutely essential for the management and preservation of your art estate.

FINE ART DEPARTMENT

Because PSPI has decades of expertise in valuable items, we realised the importance of offering a service that reflects the value you place on these items. We therefore developed a unique, comprehensive and transparent service. Because the art and collectibles are a field that necessitates the involvement of several experts, we set out with the ambition of providing overall management of the art and collectible assets with which we are entrusted.

YOUR FINE ART SPECIALIST

My name is Héloïse Decrocq-Mosnier. My qualifications in both insurance law and art appraisal mean I'm able to assess the ever-specific nature of a collection, making me the best ally for the overall management of your art assets. Alongside my insurance expertise, I can also value or revalue your collectible assets, an integrated in-house service that only PSPI provides. In short, I am a "multiskilled Fine Art Advisor", capable of advising you on all aspects of your Fine Art estate, in a truly unique way.

MY SERVICES

The insurance policy includes:

- Drawing up an inventory
- Appraising your objects
- Value update

Optional

- Optimised logistics for your collection (storage, transport, etc.)
- Personalised art monitoring service
